Greetings!

At PEAK Parent Center we know that an inclusive childhood leads to inclusion in adulthood. Our communities are better when we ensure that all people have equitable opportunities to grow and thrive alongside one another. We know that ALL people, when given proper access, tools, and support can contribute to our world in positive and meaningful ways. Our differences make us stronger. In fact, our world will have no progress without our differences. We need people who think differently, look differently, move differently, and believe differently.

Each year, we host the Conference on Inclusive Education that helps families and educators to see new possibilities for individuals with disabilities by offering cutting-edge information and the latest, innovative strategies. Through events like the conference, PEAK provides vital solutions to families of children with disabilities, to self-advocates, and to educators.

As a nonprofit, we rely upon our sponsors to help us continue our mission of making sure ALL children have access to the education & community resources they deserve. To that end, we are reaching out to ask for your support. PEAK would be honored to have you partner with us as a sponsor of our 2022 virtual Conference on Inclusive Education happening February 10, 17, and 24, 2022. This year's theme, Take Up Space, focuses on the importance of each of us using our presence to collaboratively build more inclusive schools, workplaces and communities.

The attached sponsorship levels and benefits outline the details of the different levels of participation. Also attached are our outcome results which demonstrate the impact we made last year!

Inclusion and Family Engagement make a huge difference. The urgency to keep our kids learning and thriving in the current environment calls for a strong partnership between school, home, and the community! The effects of what we accomplish together will ripple throughout the lives we touch. Please join us this year and support our critical work!

Sincerely,
